All physical activities offered by Campus Recreation carry various degrees of risk for injury. Participants assume sole responsibility for any and all such risk or injury that may result due to voluntary participation. It is an individual’s responsibility to be knowledgeable about his or her own physical condition and ability to participate in any of the activities.