MUSIC MIND GAMES WORKSHOP FOR MUSIC TEACHERS
Friday, November 4, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
Deadline to register is October 20.

Learn how Music Mind Games is changing the way educators and students are teaching and learning about music theory. The curriculum has over 300 games, and is used in 42 countries world-wide. This introductory workshop provides an overview of the Music Mind Games method and philosophy along with interactive playtime with mind stimulating games that use creative materials. Teachers will catch a glimpse of how Music Mind Games is helping students build music literacy skills joyfully. The best part... it's really FUN!

Elizabeth Cuhna is a Certified Teacher Trainer who has over a decade of training alongside the method's creator, Michiko Yurko. Elizabeth has led workshops in more than 5 states and 3 countries. Elizabeth offers in-depth knowledge of the curriculum and experience blending MMG with Suzuki, Orff, World Music Drumming, and Orchestra classes to ages 3 through adults. Join her for what promises to be a joyful music theory experience.

The NIU Community School of the Arts is offering this Teacher Enrichment Session on Friday, November 4, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in NIU Music Building Room 241. There will be an hour lunch break at noon. The fee is $50 for the entire session. There is no charge for CSA Suzuki Faculty members. Deadline to register is October 20. There is a limit of twelve participants.

Thank you to The Spinoso Family for their funding and support of this workshop. Please email Ann Montzka Smelser if you have further questions at annmsmelser@gmail.com.
