J Mase III is a black/trans/queer poet based in NYC. As an educator, he has worked with thousands of community members in the US, the UK, and Canada on the needs of LGBTQIA youth and adults in spaces such as K-12 schools, universities, faith communities, and restricted care facilities, among others. He is the founder of awQward, the first ever trans & queer people of color specific talent agency.

Don’t miss this very special spoken word performance as J Mase and Vita E show the power in using your voice!
