Tips and Tricks for a Successful Summer Research Experience

1. Set Weekly Goals, A Regimented Schedule, and Challenging Expectations

You were selected because you have a strong drive coupled with a passion in your studies. By delivering on expectations set for you and expectations set for yourself, you’ll find great success and experiences throughout the program.

2. Establish Meaningful Connections With Those You Meet

During this program, you will meet many influential figures of the DeKalb, NIU, and various academic communities as a whole. Network with them whenever possible and don’t be afraid to ask questions or to stay in contact.

3. Feel Free and Welcome to Communicate With Any and All OSEEL Staff

Research. Is. Hard. The entirety of the OSEEL staff knows and understands the challenge undergraduate research imposes and are equipped to help you when any needs arise. Whether it be a change in research to a simple pep talk, we are always welcome to assist you and lend a supportive hand to help you achieve your goals.

4. Set Time to Have Fun, Make Friends, and Make Memories

Summer research provides you more than just experience and an opportunity to make a difference: It also provides you with a group of fellow, academically driven peers who will each individually make an impact on your success and experience. Don’t forget there is more to life than research and reports. Use this guide to explore new restaurants and things to do in the area. Make sure to have fun this summer!
