Educator Licensure - Foreign World Languages and Cultures

Students majoring in World Languages and Cultures with an emphasis in French and Francophone Studies, German Studies, or Spanish and Hispanic Studies who seek licensure to teach a language in grades K-12 should consult with the Foreign World Languages and Cultures Educator Licensure office at the earliest possible opportunity. Teacher Educator licensure involves significant requirements in addition to the completion of a language degree and university general education requirements. *PDF needs to be corrected; several errors in paragraph above.

Procedures

Declare a major in World Languages and Cultures with an emphasis in French and Francophone Studies, German Studies, or Spanish and Hispanic Studies, usually with an emphasis in language and literature. Consult each semester with the major adviser for courses in the specific language major.

Consult with the Foreign Language World Languages and Cultures Educator Licensure office at the time the major is declared and at the beginning of each semester thereafter.

A study abroad experience is highly recommended for all students in the foreign language World Languages and Cultures educator licensure program.

Students are admitted to the educator licensure program when they have:

Retention

Requirements in Department

Educator licensure students are required to take all the regular courses for a emphasis in French and Francophone Studies, German Studies, or Spanish and Hispanic Studies Emphasis major, in addition to choosing specific culture and linguistics courses as upper-level electives. Educator licensure students consult regularly with both the major language adviser and the World Languages and Cultures Educator Licensure office when choosing courses.

For all majors:

Requirements outside Department

Prerequisites

For students who do not have an ACT+ writing score eligible for substitution and who have not passed the TAP, a course in Test of Academic Proficiency preparation may be required. Consult the Foreign World Languages and Cultures Educator Licensure office.
